Obtaining Your Student Visa

Visa Status Notification
You should begin the process of application for your student visa immediately upon receiving your I-20. Contact the US Consulate in your country either in person or by accessing their web page to determine the application procedures. The following section entitled “Tips for a Successful Visa Interview” suggests many ways to maximize your chances of obtaining a student visa. Once you have obtained your student visa, you should submit the Visa Status Notification to the International Student Affairs Office.

Complete Visa Status Notification located in the Forms Section or online at isao.truman.edu.

Tips for a Successful Visa Interview
A few things to consider about the visa application before preparing for the content of the interview:

- Apply IMMEDIATELY. Do not wait! New security clearances take time.

- Access the United States consulate website for instructions on applying for the student visa. If the consulate does not have a website, call the consulate for instructions.
For many students, obtaining a student visa seems to be a highly unpredictable process; however, many applicants for a student visa are denied for reasons that can be avoided if advance knowledge and planning are applied. Here are some fundamental principles to help you have a successful visa interview.

Before conducting the interview visa officers hold the basic assumption that you have an inclination for immigration. Thus, the fundamental principle you need to keep in mind when conducting the visa interview is to provide any and all evidence that you will return to your home country when you receive your degree. Excellent examples of this type of evidence include job offers, family-owned business to take over, ownership of property, family ties, political ties, etc.

Centered on this fundamental principle, try to organize your answers and materials in the following ways:

- Be prepared to discuss, in positive terms, what you expect to get out of your education in the US. Most importantly, volunteer (without being asked) how you will use your education upon your return to your country. They want to know your reasons for coming to the US, and in this instance, a fine education that can provide you with better career opportunities back at home will expel doubt about your staying in the US.

- If given the opportunity, try to impress the consular officer with your academic success thus far in your own country. If you achieved an especially high honor in completing secondary school or in achieving a university degree, do not hesitate to mention this during the interview. Showing that you are academically capable of completing your university degree will enhance your chance of receiving a student visa.

- Provide documents which show sufficient funds. A student visa applicant should be able to provide financial evidence that shows you, your parents, or your sponsor have sufficient funds to cover your tuition and living expenses during your period of intended study. This allows the visa officers to know you are financially capable of completing your education in the US and will be able to return to your country afterwards.

- If you have any family members, such as an older brother or sister, who completed higher education in the United States and have now returned to your country and are successfully pursuing careers, mention this. It will greatly strengthen your own application.

- If you are a male applicant, and your country imposes mandatory military service, be prepared to state that you intend to fully comply with your own country's laws concerning military service.

Do keep in mind that all consular officers are under considerable pressure to conduct a quick and effective interview. They must make a decision, for the most part, on those impressions they form during the first minute or two of the interview. Consequently, what you say first and the initial impression you create are most critical to your success. Also, keep your answers to the officer's questions short and to the point – do not reply simply in regard to the aforementioned points without answering the officer's questions. Listen carefully and make sure you understand the question; if you are not absolutely sure you heard the question correctly, ask the officer to please repeat it – it is much better to ask the officer to repeat the question than to answer it in the wrong manner.

A few other tips to follow:

- Anticipate that the interview will be conducted in English and not in your native language. Thus, practice English conversation, preferably with a native speaker, before the consular interview.

- Maintain a positive attitude. Do not engage the consular officer in an argument.
At all times, be friendly and courteous to the consular officer and appear confident that you will receive the visa.

Do not bring parents or siblings with you to the interview. The officer wants to interview you, not your family, and other relatives will be asked to remain seated. If you are not prepared to speak on your own behalf, this creates a negative impression.

Finally, organize your supporting documentation so that it can be logically presented without hesitation. Do not bring papers with you to the interview unless you are prepared to present them to the consular officer. Officers will frequently ask to see other papers you may be carrying with you, and if you refuse your visa may be denied. Additionally, start preparing the documents early. Some documents may take time to generate.

The following is a list of documents that are required or that may considerably enhance your chance of obtaining a student visa:
- I-20 or DS-2019 (required)
- Passport (required)
- Visa Application Receipt (required)
- SEVIS Receipt (required)
- DS-160 (required)
- Admission Letter (required)
- Bank statements (required)
- TOEFL/SAT/ACT Official Transcript (highly recommended)
- High school or college transcripts (highly recommended)
- High School Graduation Certificate (recommended)

Overcoming a Visa Denial
If you are denied a student visa, be sure to request the reasons for the denial in writing. In addition, you should politely ask for a list of documents that you can provide in order to reapply. Be sure to maintain a positive and polite attitude even if your visa is denied. Inquire about the rules for reconsideration and make an appointment as soon as allowed.

Former prospective students have found it helpful to email the International Admissions Coordinator at Truman and discuss the reasons for a denial. Reasons for visa denials are often complicated. The International Admissions Coordinator will make an effort to help you plan a strategy for reapplying for the visa.

If the primary reason the officer at the Consulate denied the visa is that they suspect that you intend to immigrate to the United States, you should provide extensive evidence that you will return home.

Many of the airport hotels provide free shuttle service to and from the airport. Across from the luggage carousels where you pick up your suitcases there is a hotel directory with free phone service. From that phone you can call one of the hotels and inquire about room availability, cost and shuttle pick up. They will pick you up from the airport and take you to your hotel. Housing

On-Campus Housing
Truman is a residential campus, which means that we provide on-campus housing for approximately 3000 students. Since the total student population of Truman is approximately 6000 students, the remaining 3000 live in the community surrounding the university. For information about the different on-campus housing options, see the Residence Life website at http://reslife.truman.edu/.

Upon being accepted for admission, a new student must consider their housing options. Please take the following Truman policies into consideration.
Truman State University policies concerning the housing of graduate and exchange students are as follows:

1. Graduate students may choose to live on or off campus.
2. Exchange students must comply with the housing arrangements that are part of the agreement between their school and Truman State University (Most of these agreements require on-campus housing.)
3. Upperclassmen who choose to break their housing contract and move off campus during the term of their contract are subject to penalties of a minimum of $700 USD.

What Are the Benefits of Living on Campus?
There are a lot of services offered to students living on campus, and some are specifically focused on international students. In each residence hall, there will be one or two Cultural Integration Leaders offering help to international students. Cultural Integration Leaders are American students who live in the residence halls and help promote a supportive living and learning environment for new international students. Cultural Integration Leaders focus on helping new international students in their adjustment and integration into the Truman community. They assist the international students in adjusting culturally, creating social relationships, and learning about American culture.

In addition to the Cultural Integration Leaders, there are also Student Advisors living on each wing of the residence halls. Student Advisors are specially trained peers that assist students in transition and adjustment to college. Their specific tasks include fostering an academic atmosphere, programming, counseling, policy enforcement, administrative tasks, crisis intervention, and more.

Now, let's hear what international students say about living on campus:

Q: How do you like the housing conditions?
A: On-campus housing is clean and comfortable. The facilities are good. There's a big TV in every lounge, and the kitchen on every floor is awesome. It has a big fridge. I can check out cookers from the hall desk and cook food from my country when I miss home.

Q: Do you find it easy to get along with your roommate and others in your dormitory?
A: My roommate is very friendly and understanding. I also know that a lot of international students have nice roommates who care about them and love to learn about their cultures. Most of the people living in the same dormitory are easy to talk with and are very friendly to international students like me. They are also very curious about different cultures and like to learn about our customs.

Q: Do you think living on campus helps you make a better transition to the life here and learn more about American culture?
A: Living on campus certainly helps me make more American friends. Through chatting with them, I learn more about American culture and adapt more quickly to life here.

Q: How helpful do you think your Student Advisors are?
A: They are very friendly and helpful. Whenever I have any problems, I go to my Student Advisors and they help me or point me in the right direction.

Q: How about personal and property safety?
A: I feel very safe living in the dorms. They lock the entrances every night after 10:30 except for the main entrance, where you have to check in. There are also Student Advisors on patrol every night. My belongings are also safe; I have never lost anything in the dorm.

Q: Since you have lived off-campus for sometime, how do you compare on-campus and off-campus housing?
A: After living off-campus for a semester, I feel like living on-campus fits me better. Although it costs a little more money, it's much more convenient. Living on campus makes it easier to walk to my classes and the cafeterias. I don't have to pay the many separate bills such as rent, water, electric, gas, cable, and internet. It also takes away worries about repair needs, yard care, and snow removal, all of which are taken care of for me when I'm living on campus.
How to Obtain On-Campus Housing

To secure the on-campus living accommodation, you must complete and return the Residence Hall/Apartment Application, along with a $150 housing deposit. When you submit your housing application it becomes a contract and your application fee becomes a deposit, $125 of which is refundable at the end of the academic year as long as you leave your room in good condition and meet the terms and conditions of your contract. The Residence Life Office does its best to accommodate your preferences, but hall choice is NOT guaranteed.

Note: The on campus apartments are not listed on the Residence Hall/Apartment Application. If you are interested in the on-campus apartments, please write the name of the apartment you prefer on the Residence Hall/Apartment Application. The Residential Living Office receives many applications for apartment housing. Apartment placement is NOT guaranteed. Apartments are described in the following sections.

Important Information Concerning Housing

- If you are required or want to live on campus, you need to complete the Residence Hall/Apartment Application as soon as possible after receiving your admission packet.
- You can find the housing application on TruView (where you can also pay your deposit), on our website isao.truman.edu under ‘Admitted Students’ and ‘Online Enrollment Forms’, or in the Forms Section of the Registration Guide.
- If your visa should be denied, the housing deposit will be refunded to you.
- When completing the Residence Hall/Apartment Application, you will be given the chance to indicate the housing you prefer. We cannot guarantee placement in the hall you specify as placement depends on availability of space.
- You will be placed with an American roommate. We do not place international students from the same country together.
- If you indicate a preference for an on-campus apartment, you will be contacted if there are no spaces. You may then tell us if you wish to be placed in residence halls or if you wish to withdraw your on-campus housing contract and find an apartment off campus.
- Students who choose to live off campus should arrive several days prior to the beginning of the semester to locate an off-campus apartment or use the internet to try to find an apartment.
- Students may not live on campus while searching for an off-campus apartment. We do not provide temporary housing on campus. You may find it necessary to stay in a hotel until you find an apartment.
- The Residence Hall/Apartment Application is a legal document. Breaking the Housing Contract to move off campus will result in a severe financial penalty!

Additional Services with On-Campus Housing

Cable Television – Basic cable television is provided free of charge in the residence halls and apartments.

Computer Access – Truman is proud to offer free campus-wide wireless internet access to all students, faculty, staff, alumni and sponsored guests. All buildings on campus have wireless internet access, and most outdoor areas are covered as well. Each residence hall room has access to the campus network, which allows students to use the internet, e-mail, and library systems from their rooms. Also, rooms have one network port per resident. You may want an Ethernet card and coaxial cable to “plug in” to the campus system. Information on hardware requirements is available from Truman’s Information Technology Services on the web at www2.edu/cs/stu/EthernetAccess/html.

Dining Services – Centennial Hall, Ryle Hall, and Missouri Hall each house dining facilities that serve 20 meals per week. Three hot meals are provided each day except Sunday, when no evening meal is served. We provide several different options which give you the flexibility to choose a Meal Plan that will fit your desires.

The Block Meal Plan enables you maximum flexibility. You may eat whenever, and as often as you would like because you have a set number of meals per semester. This flexibility also allows you the ability to purchase your friends/family meals with your card. Pick one of the following meal plans.

- 225 meals per semester with no Dining Dollars
- 210 meals per semester plus $50.00 Dining Dollars
• 185 meals per semester plus $100 Dining Dollars
• 165 meals per semester plus $150.00 Dining Dollars
• 145 meals per semester plus $200.00 Dining Dollars
• 20 meals per week plus $50.00 Dining Dollars (The equivalent of 1 meal for every breakfast, lunch, and dinner offered plus $50 dining dollars. However, there are limitations:
  o You must eat in the Residential Dining Halls only.
  o It does not allow any unused meals to carry over to the next week.
  o It can not be used for any transfer options or purchases in any retail facilities on campus.

At each meal, a variety of food is served including salad bar, soup, main entrées (including vegetarian and vegan options), side dishes, deli bar, desserts, and ice cream. There is also a broad selection of low-fat and fat-free food available, and nutrition information is provided for many menu items. Unlimited portions of food are available except on specialty nights, when entrées such as steak and shrimp are served.

Your student ID is your ticket to enter the dining hall at each meal and can be used in any of the three cafeterias. On days when you must miss the regularly scheduled meal time, or when you want to eat in the Student Union Building, you can use your meal credit or Dining Dollars in Mainstreet Market.

Furniture – All of Truman's residence hall rooms feature modular furniture, which includes desks and chairs, drawer space, shelf space, and beds. The beds can be converted into lofts, bunk beds, or traditional beds, so you and your roommate can arrange your room in a style to suit you.

Tips for an Easy Transition to Living on Campus
Moving into a residence hall can be the single best way for you to learn about the American culture. Yet it is not without challenges. Below are listed some answers to questions commonly asked by new students moving into our residence halls.

• Items such as sheets, blankets, pillows, towels, and telephones are not included with the room. You should plan to spend approximately $200 for these and other personal items such as shampoo, soap, toothpaste, etc. The staff of the International Student Office will take you shopping during orientation week so you can purchase these items. Note: Sheets, blankets, and pillows are provided to all Exchange Students.
• Roommate assignments are made by the Residence Life Office. You may request a change in your room assignment online at http://reslife.truman.edu/services/roomchange/RoommateIssues.asp.
• The contract you sign is a legally binding agreement. If you decide to move from the hall during the nine-month lease, you may be subject to a sizeable breakage fee and penalties.
• A meal plan is included as a part of all housing contracts except in Campbell and Randolph Apartments.
• Laundry facilities are available in each hall and the cost is included in your room and board fees.
• The halls sponsor a number of activities, including intramural sports, educational speakers, picnics, and dances. These events provide you with an opportunity to meet American students and to become involved in the campus community.
• Get to know the Student Advisor on your wing. Every wing of every hall has a Student Advisor who is there to answer any questions you may have.

The Residence Hall/Apartment Contract will be available online on TruView or at isao.truman.edu.
Class Registration

You can complete your Class Registration, also known as the Pre-Orientaion Questionnaire/Transfer Registration Questionnaire online at http://truvew.truman.edu.

Course Offerings and Course Descriptions
For individual descriptions of each course and explanations of the requirements for each major, see the Truman Catalog at http://catalog.truman.edu.

Foreign Language Requirements for International Students
As a liberal arts and sciences university, Truman requires students to attain proficiency in a foreign language. In most cases, this requirement is waived for international students who are NON-NATIVE SPEAKERS OF ENGLISH. However, many international students wish to study a third language. Truman offers several foreign languages. In order to be placed in the correct level of study in the language you wish to pursue, you will need to take the Foreign Language Placement Test in that language. Foreign Language Placement Test can be completed online at http://truvew.truman.edu.

English Placement Test
The University also requires that each non-native speaker of English take a written English Placement test upon arrival. Based on the outcome of this test, students may be required to take English for Non-Native Speakers or may be placed directly in writing and speech courses with native speakers.

Health and Health Insurance

Student Health Center
The Student Health Center welcomes you to Truman State University. The Student Health Center is staffed by a physician, nurse practitioners, a registered nurse, a laboratory technician, and a secretary. The center is open Monday through Friday when classes are in session.

Students make an appointment by calling the Student Health Center. The fees for the Student Health Center charges will be filed with your insurance. Students are responsible for fees not paid by insurance. Any charges remaining after insurance payment are placed on the student’s university account. Allergy injection services are available to those students who need to continue allergy injections while at school. There is a fee for this service. Students needing allergy injections must contact the Student Health Center before arriving on campus.

Services Provided:
- General Medical Care
- Health and Wellness Education
- Immunizations & TB Testing
- Nursing Assessments
- Nutritional Counseling
- Reproductive Health Care (for men and women)
- Lab (In-house and SmithKlineBeacham Clinical Lab)
- Allergy Injections

All services provided are confidential

University Immunization Requirements
In order to more fully protect the health and well being of its students, Truman State University requires that all students born on or after January 1, of 1957 must have two doses of measles vaccine in order to demonstrate adequate immunity. Students must provide the Student Health Center with official verification of immunization. Students should bring proof of all the immunizations they have received during their lifetime. This can be a separate record signed by your healthcare provider or a completed part of the Medical History Form. The following forms of documentation of immunization are acceptable forms of verification: a copy of immunization records from a physician, health department, military record, high school record, or verification of immunity by serological titer. Failure to meet this requirement will result in a hold being placed on next semester’s registration.

Students requesting medical or religious waivers should contact the Student Health Center. Serological titers will be required for students requesting permanent medical or religious waivers of the immunization requirements. FAILURE TO PROVIDE VERIFICATION OF THE REQUIRED IMMUNIZATIONS WILL RESULT IN A BLOCK ON THE NEXT SEMESTERS’ REGISTRATION.

The two doses of measles required by the immunization policy can be met in a number of ways. An individual may receive two doses of a combined vaccine such as measles, mumps, rubella (MMR), or a measles & rubella (MR), or two separate measles immunizations. The first measles immunization must have been on or after the first birthday. The second must have been given at least one month after the first. Documentation of the required immunizations must be attached to the health center history form.

Mandatory Tuberculosis Testing

Truman has adopted a policy requiring Tuberculosis (TB) screening and testing for all incoming international students. All students will be tested at orientation before classes begin. This TB test is NOT optional regardless of any prior TB testing that you have received. If you have received a recent TB test in the United States, then there is a possibility that you will be able to use those results instead of receiving another exam. However, all decisions regarding the viability of previous testing within the United States are made by the Student Health Center. Anyone testing positive for TB will have a chest x-ray and follow-up treatment. The cost of the testing ($100) will be billed on your student account along with tuition, housing, and other fees.

Medical History Form
In the forms section, you will find a Medical History Form. It is important that you complete this form as thoroughly as possible. The Medical History Form is a valuable tool to the health care providers. Students who do not have a health history on file will be required to complete one prior to being seen for any non-emergency care.

Health and Accident Insurance
Healthcare is very expensive in the United States. Truman State University requires health insurance coverage for all international students (any student attending Truman State University who is not a citizen or permanent resident of the United States). Students are automatically billed for the International Student Medical Insurance Plan ($570 per semester) on their student account and pay for it with their tuition and other fees.

Please note that the US does not have a national insurance provided by the government. Each person is responsible for their own insurance and medical expenses. To protect you from extreme medical expenses, we have chosen the following insurance. Even with insurance, some expenses will be the responsibility of the student.

The insurance that Truman has chosen for international students includes the following benefits:

- Maximum total benefits of $250,000
- Copay of $20 at an in-network office or clinic
- Copay of $50 at an in-network hospital
- Reimbursement for 50% of prescription medicines
- Medical evacuation $25,000
- Repatriation $10,000
This policy is provided by The Lewer Agency, Inc.

Insurance Exclusions:
This insurance is subject to certain exclusions which will be described in the brochure provided upon arrival. This insurance plan does NOT cover dental or vision care.

Cost:
The cost of health insurance coverage for the Spring 2013 academic semester must be paid with your tuition upon arrival.

Complete Medical History Form located in the Forms Section.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

Payment of tuition, housing, orientation, insurance and activities fees is required by the last day of the first week of classes. Students must make arrangements to have the funds available by the first week of courses or be prepared to be disenrolled from the University. Options for payment of the fees include:

- Pay using the Flexible Payment Plan which allows installment payments through the semester. To sign up, go online to http://truvew.truman.edu, Student Tab, My Accounts section and click Flexible Payment Plan Agreement.
- Pay by e-check, an electronic debit to your checking or savings account, available online at mybill.truman.edu for authorized users, or via TruView for students. There is no fee for this option. If you are using your debit card as a credit card, you will be charged the 2.75% convenience fee. For checking or savings account debits, please use the e-check option to avoid paying the convenience fee.
- Pay by check mailed to Truman State University, Student Account Payment, PO Box 754, Kirksville, MO 63501-0754 or drop by the payment drop box at the cashier window in McClain Hall 105. There is no fee for this option.
- Pay by wiring funds to our bank (The Bank of Kirksville, routing number 081501340, bank account number 007668-include your student name and student ID number on the wire document).
- Pay by MasterCard, Discover or American Express credit card online at mybill.truman.edu (authorized users) or via TruView (students). A 2.75% convenience fee will be added to the payment amount. Due to limitations imposed by Visa, Truman State University does NOT accept Visa credit card payments for student accounts.
- Do NOT bring cash to pay your fees. In cases of theft cash is generally irreplaceable.

BANK DRAFTS
Students who choose to pay fees by bank draft should have the bank draft made payable to Truman State University. Any funds over the amount owed to the University will be refunded to the student within one week. If the amount of excess funds exceeds $500, the University will require written permission from the primary sponsor to refund the excess money to the student.

Bank drafts should be drawn on a large national or international bank and must include the proper bank routing numbers on the bottom of the check. These numbers identify the bank that issued the bank draft and allow the money to be paid to the University in 7-10 days from the originating bank. Drafts without the proper bank routing number must be sent for collection and may incur large collection fees and a long delay in payment of funds to the University.
WIRING FUNDS

Funds may be wired to the University prior to or immediately after your arrival. Funds wired to the University will be credited to the student’s account at the University and used to pay those fees owed to the University. Banks usually charge $15 or more to wire funds. Be sure to include this fee in the amount wired. Any funds over the amount owed to the University will be refunded to the student within one week. If the amount of excess funds exceeds $500, the University will require written permission from the primary sponsor to refund the excess money to the student.

In order to prepay your tuition and other fees by electronic wire, please request the instructions from the International Student Affairs Office at intladmit@truman.edu.

Your Legal Status in the United States

As a visitor applying to come to the US to study, you are issued a student visa (F-1 for degree-seeking students). By using the student visa to enter the US, you become subject to the laws and regulations of the US and the legal requirements and restrictions of your visa.

In the last few years, American laws and regulations regarding non-citizens have become much stricter. Be careful to know and understand the requirements and limitations of your immigration status in the US. Some of the requirements are:

- You must report to the school that issued your I-20 on the appropriate, designated date.
- You must maintain a full course load every semester (a full course load is 12-17 credit hours).
- You must make normal progress toward your degree.
- You may not work off campus without the permission of the federal government.
- YOU MAY NOT DROP OUT OF SCHOOL OR TAKE A SEMESTER OFF AND REMAIN IN THE US.

The student visa allows you to enter the United States. As you enter the US, your I-20 is stamped with the date and place of entry, immigration status and date of expiration of your stay. You are also issued a small white card called the I-94 and it is also stamped with the same information. THESE ARE VERY IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS. DO NOT LOSE THEM. CARRY THEM WITH YOU AT ALL TIMES.

Instead of an actual expiration date, your I-20 and I-94 will say that you may stay until “D/S.” “D/S” stands for “Duration of Status”. This means that you may remain in the US for the full duration of your program so long as you maintain your legal status and do not violate the conditions of your visa classification. As an international student, maintaining your “status” means that you are an F-1 visa holder; you are attending the school that issued your I-20; you are maintaining a full course load each semester; you are making normal progress towards your degree; you are not working illegally and are not breaking the laws of the US; your I-20 expiration date is in the future.

If you violate your student status, you are immediately considered to be illegally present in the US and may be required to leave. It is essential that you make every effort to abide by the conditions of your status.

Employment

Employment for international students in the US is limited by law. Students may work on campus up to a maximum of 20 hours per week while classes are in session and up to 39 hours per week during breaks and holidays. However, the availability of on-campus jobs is limited and students should not count on on-campus employment as a significant source of support. Students may not work off campus without permission of the US government and this permission is very limited.
